

Sleeping Bags

Care of your sleeping is very important. You must make sure that before you go camping that there are no holes in your sleeping bag. This is important for a restful sleep and holes in sleeping bags may mean that there are animals that have taken up residence in your sleeping bag. It is a great idea to insert into the sleeping bag a flannelette sheet or light blanket. It adds to the comfort of the sleeping experience. Make sure that the zipper works. Make sure that the sleeping bag you have is the type of sleeping bag needed for the type of camping trip you are going on. After you have returned home from camping make sure that you have aired you sleeping bag out before you store it away for the season. Store your sleeping bag in a cool dry place that animals will not have access to your sleeping bags.
